

Navigation

The navigation bar at the top is used to visit each part of the website. The current page will be highlighted.

Animation

You will move around the planet as you visit each of the goals. The content panel will appear from the right side. Scroll down to find out more each information about each panel.

Form

To signup to the newsletter, fill in the information required and press the send button. You should see a confirmation message and receive a confirmation email.

Mobile layout

On smaller screens, the navigation bar will use emojis instead of text. The content panel for each page will appear from the bottom after the background animation plays.
